☐ Aryanization: In the middle of Second millennium Aryans started to influence the northwestern parts of India. Gradually Aryans influenced the people of Bengal from cultural and political points of view. It is called Aryanization.

(Fine implementation and non implementation)

 The Agrarian: This frontier divides cultivators of irrigated fields from shifting cultivators and the forest. In the delta, embanked fields were irrigated by monsoon rain water and worked by ploughs. Today this system is still found in Bangladesh. The spread of irrigated agriculture was slow because it requires much labour. Cultivators had to ~~clear~~ clear the forest, level the ground and so on. Even more labour was needed to keep irrigated agriculture running.

 Battle of BOXAR

After the battle of Palashi, Minzafar became the nawab and the british foundout that he was useless and then min Quasim was elected as nawab. Min Quasim was Minzafar's son in law. He wanted to in increase tax and it made the british angry and the battle of Boxar occimed. Hae min Quasim was defeated and british won the battle. Then Robert Clive got in charge and started dual system → which is a system of collecting tax.

The british impact:

* The ambition of the british was to use Bangla's economy

* They ^{came to} ~~introduced~~ ^{for the first time} a dual system.

* The british introduced a new post under the regulatory act was (governor general)

⇒ this was a new law introduced by Warren Hastings. (First governor)

Lord Cornwallis

 They came with a new system of tax which was known as Permanent Settlement introduced in 1790 and confirmed in 1793. In this system, the ~~owner~~ ^{british} will get the land permanently. The owner can sell or donate the land. This settlement was done because the zaminders at that time started avoiding the agricultural development. So that, the zaminders could invest in their agricultural development the british did so. Here the owner of the land had to pay tax.

 Then they started the "sunset law" where every year on the last day before the sunset the owner of the land had to pay tax on the land will be taken by the british.

Some zamindars were closed to the british and sometimes they used to get chance.

⇒ Through this law what came out?

- (1) A loyal class zamindar came out because who used to pay taxes timely and who used to lose the land most of them were muslims.
- (2) Banya class people came out.
- (3) Many neohs came out.

Q: What was the main aim of introducing the Permanent Settlement Act?

- 1) They had to take care of the land that means agriculture.
- 2) tax collection and agricultural, improvement economic

 When the zamindars were collecting money from the farmers they found that they are earning a lot of money and that's why the farmers had to give extra money to the zamindars.

* * * Then the Jaminder people decided to appoint a group of people to collect tax and they were known as intermediary class people or intermediaries. They were responsible for collecting tax and after that they had to submit that tax to the Jaminders. This system was known as Sub-Infeudation or Pottindari. After the intermediary class people, they appointed another class group of people to collect taxes and they followed the zaminders. so it can be said that the farmers were pressurised. So, like this the colonial rural Bengal came to be dominated by the Zamindari land owners.

Crops for far-flung markets:

- (1) They ^{used to} gave importance to export-oriented cash cropping.

Non Cash crops: Cotton, rice, sugarcane, mulberry, betel nut and many other crops.

(2) The European and south Asian capital was invested in the large scale production of non-cash crops.

cash crops : Opium, indigo, tea, silk, jute.

Colonial cash-cropping:

It was important because it formed a net connection between Bengal's rural economy and European and Asian markets.

* after cultivating indigo, other crops can't be cultivated on that field.

□ New institutions of Rule: (iii)

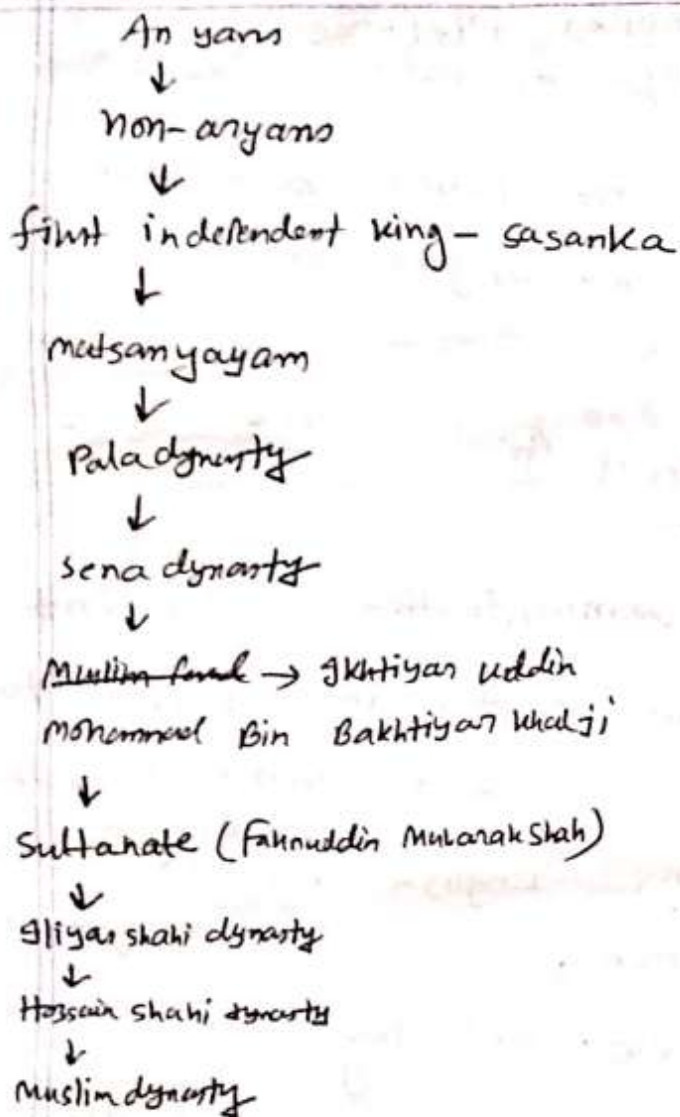

- (1) Many administrative innovations were done.
- (2) They constructed English language schools and colleges.
- (3) Two modern universities were constructed.
- (4) People became more hygienic and had better access to medicine.
- (5) They made new hospitals, roads, bridges and railways.

- (6) They invented telegraph, telephone and radio that made their life easier.
- (7) After doing all this, the police and army became better funded and organised.

The Rise of Kolkata: (iv)

- * They mainly focused on administrative development. Later they shifted their capital from Kolkata to Delhi but their focus was mainly on Kolkata. They established many English medium schools and only the children of rich Hindus got chance to get admitted there, and they were known as upper class (the ~~bhadra~~ bhadralok) or (gentlefolk). Kolkata was the (nerve-centre) of the colonial administration.
- * It was emerged as its commercial and economic hub. * valuable cash crops (Opium → for the Chinese market), (indigo, tea → for the European market) were cultivated and also exported.
- * A new network of railway lines began to radiate from Kolkata to hinterland.

(step by step)

* impacts of permanent settlement:

- 1) economic development improvement of
- 2) Tax collection.

British impact:

- 1) permanent settlement
- 2) Dual system
- 3) Samsat law
- 4) The rise of Kolkata
- 5) New institutions of Rule.
- 6) Crops for far-flung markets.
- 7) Sub-infudation.

The colonial conflicts:

⇒ The revolt started from the soldiers who were indian but worked under the british.

Why did they oppose?

* 1st partition of Bengal :- Hindus didnot support the partition because they believe that kolkata had been the capital of the country and if they will divide the bengal muslims will be equal to them. So, zaminders like Rabindra Nath Tagore were strongly ~~oppose~~ opposed the partition. The newspaper was also supplied from kolkata and kolkata became useless. The zaminders also took the land. ^{didnot oppose the partition}

Reaction of Muslims :- Muslims ~~temporary~~ ^{didnot} opposed, because the hindu used to dominate them. ~~lastly~~ ^{so,} they accepted the partition and were very happy.

* To make everything peaceful there were 4 peaceful movement.

- ① Press campaigns.
- ② Petitions
- ③ meetings
- ④ conferences

Results of the partition:

- 1) Muslims left the congress and formed Muslim league.
- 2) Protest of Hindus and other royal clan people lead the british to annul the partition.

* muslim and hindus unitedly called a movement in only one benar.

⇒ they got some capital punishment because they were against the british but were not successful but it encouraged the other revotts.

* Titumir → who was a muslim → returned to sub-continent where hindu zamindars were not following the rules and rituals.

⇒ He made "Basher kella" to revolt against the british → which could not sustain because of the british.

This was known as "Fardaiji" movement (Saudi Arabian)

* There was a system if a muslim goes to prayer → or if he slaughters cow he will have to pay tax like these.

□ 3 reasons of the first Partition

1) Administrative &

2) Divide and Rule Policy → some language speaking people

3) Social and economic reason → 22 colleges and 1 university Hindus were benefitted but muslims are not.

- * 1905 → The British started (Bongovongo)
- * 1885 → Congress → formed by British civil Surgeon → Allen O Hume
- * 1906 → All India Muslim League formed by Sir Solimullah.

* Swadeshi Movement: (Krishno Chandra Mitro)
 To develop the economy of India. (bought all the rules and regulations)

- 1) 1st Partition of Bengal
- 2) Kolkata was the centre of all administration
- 3) Influence of some aristocratic persons.

- Impacts:
- * Muslims were separated from national politics.
 - * Indian nationalism created among people.
 - * Bought out a significant impact on silk weaving.

 Annulment of Bengal Partition:

Reasons:

- 1) Zamindars opposed it
- 2) Hindus opposed it as Dushka the new capital and Chittagong Port was opened.

~~~~ After Swadeshi movement they decided to kill the British officers but could not succeed.

☐ What are the 2 reasons of anti-partition movement?

(1) ~~Bong Vong~~ Bengal terrorism.

(2) Swadeshi movement.

* The annulment of the Partition was in 1911

* 1928 → KPP → (Knishok Proja Party formed)

⇒ Ak Fazlul Haq found that Congress and Muslim League are dominated by ^{elite} Hindus and Muslims. At that time, he built this party for the common class people and became popular.

* 1932 → British came out with a concept (Communal award)

* 1935 → KPP changed its name and became KSP (Knishok Samik Party)

* 1940 → (Lahore resolution) → conference in Lahore of Muslim League.

Two Nation Theory ^{was} introduced by Mohammad Ali Jinnah which states that British India will be divided according to the majority of Hindus and Muslims. ^{where Muslim League had means} got a chance to change concept. (mainly based on religion)

Famine 1943 : Reasons:

- 1) Second world war.
- 2) Destroying 60000 boats by British army
- 3) Selling foods in high rate.

Effects: 1) 2nd greatest famine in Bengal.
2) Around 150000 people died
3) Congress and Muslim League raised their voice against British.)

Lord Mountbatten was the last governor of British India. and the President of India became Jawahar Nehru.

1946 → Mohammad Ali Jinnah called a strike called

Direct Action Day.

* 5000 muslims were killed by the non-muslims and it is known as (the great kolkata killing / weak of a knife).

* Ashraf → elite muslim people → came from Arab, Persian and central Asian

* Ajlaf → low level muslim people → they are uneducated and influenced by non-muslims. To improve them Ashraf took an attempt named ashraf - ising

* Two strategies — ① Swadeshi movement
② Bengal Terrorism

The limitation of the boycott and self help programme became clear to more radical opponents of the division of Bengal was political assassination.

* Fakir - Santhali resistance:

The revolt gained widespread support from rural population suffering under the newly imposed system of taxation and it turned against tax collectors and armed forces.

 Has did the Muslims reacted after the Partition?

- ✓ ① They got Dhaka as the new capital.
- ✓ ② New schools, colleges, universities.
- ✓ ③ Chittagong Port will be used again.
- ✓ ④ New Newspaper will be published.
- ✓ ⑤ The foundation of Muslim League.
- ✓ ⑥ New job opportunities.

~~~~ ~~WA~~

 Bengal Terrorism: This strategy was first developed in revolutionary youth groups. They took their cue from Russian, Italian and Irish secret societies. They used the public display of violence against high ranking British individuals. The campaign played highly successful. This created revolutionary heroes.

Q: Why Pakistan was a very special state after the division?

- (1) It was founded upon religious nationalism.
- (2) Pakistan was a state administering two discrete territories.
- (3) Pakistan did not become heir to any of the colony's central state institutions.

 From the beginning the (North Indian) used to dominate the institutions of state. They were two national groups. The first one was known as (Muhajiras). They were largely members of Urdu speaking. They were intelligent and took hold of almost all higher positions in the administration. Most of them mainly settled in the East Pakistan. The second regional group was the Muslims of Punjab.

 When the students of East Pakistan came to know about the plan to make Urdu the national language, they held meetings and formed the first 31. Urdu 55% Bangla.

Language action committee in 1947. 1948 the leaders were arrested and injured. Mohammad Ali Jinnah at that time came to Dhaka and addressing a large audience he stated that the Bengali language could be used in East Pakistan but the state language of Pakistan is going to be Urdu.

 Then after 1948 when Khawaja Nazimuddin came to Dhaka and announced that the people of East Pakistan can speak Bangla if they want but Pakistan's state language will be Urdu. Then there was a very angry reaction and Dhaka University went on a strike and a number of organizations called a protest meeting, chaired by Mawlana Abdul Hamid Khan Bhashani. In 1949, he formed a new party Awami Muslim League. It decided to call a general strike or hartal on 21 February, 1952. Thousands of boys and girls from schools and colleges assembled on the campus of DU together with university students and when they started shouting slogan and passed the campus gate police attacked them with tear gas and fired into the crowd. So, many were killed and many were injured. After that, 21 February became the key national holiday in 1999 following the proposal by the Bangladesh government, UNESCO created (International Mother Language Day) on 21 February.

 The first election ever in the Bengal was held in 1954. On that election the ruling Muslim League was deeply humiliated because out of 309 seats, it won only 7 and the election of 1954 was won by an alliance known as the United Front.

(4 party alliance) and (21 points demand)

 At that time there was four Party

- 1) KSP → Krishak Sramik Party (AK Fajdul Haq)
 - 2) Awami Muslim League
(Maulana Abdul Hamid Khan Bhashani)
 - 3) Gono Bantni Dol
(Haji Mohammad Danesh)
 - 4) Nizam-e-Islami.
(Maulana Atahar Ali)
- (Why + Point) →
- 1) Bangla shall get autonomy it should not be controlled by west Pakistan.
 - 2) Bangla should be the mother language.

 The United Front's election manifesto consisted of 21 points demand.

 1954 → General Iskander Mirza was despatched from Karachi.

 In 1955 Awami Muslim League renamed itself as Awami League.

 In 1956 Gulam Ahmad Mohammad was assigned and he made the new constitution.

 In 1957, its founder Maulana Bhashani left the party to form NAP (National Awami Party)

 Ayub Khan came but did not declare himself the President of Pakistan, he declared martial law which was known as 1958 BDO (Basic Democracy Orders). It was controlled democracy. There will be 40000 from east Pakistan and 40000 from west Pakistan will be selected by local people and 80000 people will elect the President of Pakistan.

 Politics of Constitution Making:

(1956)

⇒ The first Constitution was formed by Abul Kalam Muhammed. In 1952, The second constitution was formed by Ayub Khan by follow BDO.

 2 features of constitution: 1956

- (1) The constitution recognized Bengali as one of the two state languages.
- (2) The constitution granted a dose of provincial autonomy to placate East Bengal at least for the time being.

 In 1965, there was a war between India and Pakistan for 17 days and the issue was Kashmir.

Indo-Pak war

~~ 1965~~

 Ayub Era: Ayub Khan exiled Mirza to London and assumed total control of the government. He built his support base in partnership with the civil servants, the military establishment and the business interests. Here he projected himself as a reformer and stated a ~~new~~ revolution to clean up all the mess of smuggling.

~~ Basic Democracies:~~

 Indo-Pakistan War: The core of the Indo-Pakistan dispute was Pakistan's intervention in Kashmir. A good slice of Kashmir was seized by Pakistan and was named Azad Kashmir. Then on ~~27 September~~^{January, 1966}, Pakistani President Ayub Khan and Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri signed an agreement by ending the war.

 Indo-Pak war was ended with the execution of Tashkent Treaty but it was a security threat for East Pakistan.

The Ayub-Shastri agreement officially ended the Indo-Pak war but Ayub was publicly criticized for abandoning the Muslims of Kashmir. Pakistan gained nothing from the war.

 Six points demand:

- (1) Federation as per "Lahore Resolution".
- (2) Except ~~xxx~~ foreign policy and military, ^{/defence} all powers will be in the hand of federation.
- (3) Separate but easily exchangeable currency for each unit.
- (4) Power of taxation will be in ~~federation~~ responsibility of federation.
- (5) Separate accounts on foreign exchange.
- (6) Separate para-military force for each unit.

 Significance of 6 point movement:

⇒ It was 1966 when BSPMR → Banga Bandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman announced his historic Six Point Programme aimed to removing disparity inequality between the 2 wings of Pakistan. It was widely regarded as the "character of freedom" for the people of East Pakistan. Furthermore, It has been credited as the stepping stone of the liberation war. This movement further inspired East Pakistanis for several movements such as 11 Point movement, mass upsurge election of 1970, freedom of SMR and rise of Bangladesh.

* Six points Background :

In 1940, there was a promise made by Jinnah that there will be 2 federation in the basis of 3 religion. This is called "Lahore Resolution". and basis ~~on~~ On this theory India and Pakistan got divided. The inhabitants of East Pakistan made up the majority of the population and the people of east Pakistan exports jute, tea etc and earned foreign exchange. During that time, Adamjee Jute Mills was the largest jute industries in the world. As, we had no separate account for foreign earnings, the west Pakistanis lived by our foreign currency. The East Pakistanis were subjected to continuous discrimination year after year. They did not have any separate currency. Along with that, money was not exchangeable.

 Agartala conspiracy

Sheikh Mujibur Rahman went to Agartala to meet the representatives of Indira Gandhi. He was charged "Agartala conspiracy case" conspiring with India to make East Pakistan independent. He was thrown in jail. But some people were not sitting at home as they were protesting. An Anti-Ayub mass movement spread like wildfire throughout East Pakistan. So the government had to drop charges in (1969) and released SMR. and got title (Bongobondhu). Student leader Asad was killed by police firing in 1969. (Then Ayub Khan resigned and Yahya Khan became the new President.)

 Then Yahya Khan introduced 2 features of LFO (Legal ~~framework~~ order framework)

(1) Election will be held on the basis of adult franchise (people who 18+ will vote for their president)

(2) He will minimize ^{differences} all the differences between east Pakistan and west Pakistan.

He did this because it will be more easy for him to win the election through LFO because at that time all the people of East Pakistan were angry so to console them he did this.

 The election was postponed because of the cyclone Gowki. That's why, which was supposed to be held in November, the election was held in December.

^{in 1970 election}
 Then SMR won the election. Then were 169 seats and SMR won 167 seats.
Then Yahiya Khan congratulated him.

 But Vutto wanted Tikka Khan as governor and he was assigned.

 so the pakistanis came with the (Operation Search Light) for killing the aristocratic persons and when Yahiya Khan postponed the assembly on 25th March then Mujib realised that there was something wrong going on. So, after this the part of liberation was started.

 11 Point Movement (Done by the students)

⇒ Students were inspired by SMR. At a time, when most of the politicians were in the jail,

The anti regime movement, began to show signs of sluggishness. They formulated an (11 Points Programme) which incorporated (Six Points Programme). Other points included demands for reforms of educational system, reduction of land taxes, This movement received active support from all segments of the society including industrial workers and the middle class people. SMR returned East Pakistan as a national hero.

 Full of Ayub and Yahya Regime: Because of the 11 point movement, industrial output and other economic activities came to a stand still.
On 25 March, 1969 Ayub Khan transferred the defence forces to take over full control of the affairs of the country and passed responsibility to Yahya Khan. The election of 1970 happened on the basis of universal adult franchise.

① Pakistan become an Islamic Republic.

② Bengali as one of the two state languages.

* Sheikh Mujibur Rahman was arrested by the commandos of SSGR under General Osman Mitha, head of SSGR and was taken to West Pakistan.

* He was told to escape but he took the decision not to flee from his past experiences.

* He thought that while fleeing he might be killed by Pakistan forces and they would put the blame on the extremists.

* Tajuddin Ahmed was the general secretary of Awami League. He with another Awami League leader fled together from Dacca. A helicopter was sent to take them to Calcutta. Later they were taken to Delhi where Tajuddin Ahmed met Mrs. Indira Gandhi to explain his plans to form government in exile or Mujib Nagar government.

* With Mrs. Gandhi's assurance, Tajuddin came back to Calcutta on 4 April and most of the elected Awami League leaders and elected members of the national assembly they had fled from the country and they finally met in Calcutta where they formed the constituent Assembly of Bangladesh in exile. The formal meeting was held on 17 April where they took oath at Mujibnagar by the government in exile. SMR was President, Syed Nazmul Gani was Vice President and Tajuddin Ahmad was Prime Minister.

* They formed a cabinet with some senior officers like Khandokar Mushtaq Ahmad, Mansur Ali and A.H.M. Kamnuzzaman.

* The cabinet also appointed colonel Ataul Ghani as Usmoni, a former officer of Pakistan Army and Commander in Chief of the liberation armed forces.)

* The Awami League Government in exile had initially a fund of Rs 135 million. This fund consisted of the money looted from the banks and treasuries of East Pakistan during the second Phase of the liberal revolution. Rupees 40 million of the money was converted into Indian currency and the rest of the money were demonetised by the Pakistan government. This is the formation of government in exile.

 Mukti Bahini:

* From 15 May, Indian army began to help build the Mukti Bahini. Major General Sankar of the Indian army was appointed as the Chief Liaison officer between the Bangladesh government in exile and the Indian army.

✓ * The first strategy was made by Major Safiullah, Major Khaleel Musharraf and Colonel Usman. They met at Teliapara, a place in Sylhet district bordering India. and prepared a basic paper on the strategy of the liberation war which is known as Teliapara Strategy.

⇒ Colonel Usmani relied on his background of active participation in the southeast asia sector during the 2nd world war. There he had noticed and been impressed by the japanese tactic as used in Indonesia and Burma, by regular ~~forces~~ troops and guerrillas.

According to Usmani, regular forces could attack the enemy positions from the front while locally-manned guerrillas attacked from the rear.

⇒ Khaleel Moshanif argued and said that as weo force in the war the Mukti Bahini would have to turn itself into a guerrilla force

⇒ After a lot of discusion, therefore the first strategy was named as The Telialpara Document Hue), firstly, a large guerrilla force would be raised and trained. It has 3 phases? →

- ① Defensive phase: building up Mukti Bahini
- ② Equilibrium phase: Equally distributed in the diffcult location of the country.
- ③ offensive phase: Full skill war

(Jatiyo shomajtantrik Dal)

(3) Tackling JSD and other extremist parties:

(4) Illegal arms: The freedom fighters and the civilians also had thousands of firearms and weapons in hand as a result of the war.

(5) Broken economy: The economy of Bangladesh was totally to its knee for long term exploitation of west Pakistan and 9 months long war.

(6) Educational system: Schools, colleges and universities were destroyed during the war. It was a big challenge for Bangabandhu to repair it certainly. Most of the intellectual persons of our country were killed by the Pakistani Military on 14 December, 1971.

(7) Declare 1973 election:

(8) Constitution making: He made a committee of 34 members and Doctor Kamal Hossain was the head of the constitution.

(9) Communication System was destroyed: Hardly any bridge was undamaged due to the war. A large number of culverts, roads and power stations were destroyed in the war.

(10) Withdraw Indian army: The Indian army that played a vital role in the liberation war SMR sent all of them back to India after the war and it was a big challenge for him.

(11) International recognition: After the liberation war Bangladesh was also recognized by the other countries of the world.

* Problems faced by Banga Bandhu: Failure/Negative side

① Rakkhi Bahini: It was an elite para-military force formed on 8 February 1972 by the government led by SMR. It is an order commonly known as Jatiyo Rakkhi Bahini, Act, 1972. The Rakkhi Bahini committed various human rights abuses, including political killings, forced disappearances, shooting by death squads and rape. Even Bodhujjaman did nothing after the death of SMR.

② ^{Forming} BAKSAL: (Bangladesh Krishak Sramik Awami League) was a political front comprising Bangladesh Awami League, Communist Party of Bangladesh. a) resigns from the party

b) votes in parliament against that party but shall not thereby be disqualified for subsequent election as a member of parliament.

B Q: Why Mujib incorporated the 4 ideologies?

⇒ 4 ideologies are given below:-

- ① Nationalism: It represents the assertion by the people of their identity, which involved during the course of its historical struggle into the right to their language, culture, traditions and history. In declaring independence, the people of Bangladesh had emphasised that they were exercising their right to be self-determined ~~tion~~ to create a nation state. The people of Bangladesh were questioned: Are you a Bengali or Muslim? Now ^{that} Bangladesh has been established as a nation state and was recognized by the world, so their national identity could no longer be questioned.

② Democracy: It gives the right to the people of being included in the politics. Mainly the people of ^{Hagong} Hill Tracts used to feel excluded. Manabendra Narayan Lama, an elected member expressed this concern in the parliament. ~~that~~ Bonga Bondhu's response was that they would also enjoy equality in all aspects. Because of this, specific constitutional provisions were included in Articles 28 and 29. His assurance that the members of all ethnic communities would enjoy equal rights.

③ Secularism: It stands for the rejection of communalism in all its forms and of the abuse of religion for political purposes. We had seen the worst crimes committed in the name of Islam. Pakistan had called itself an Islamic State but in the end resorted to murder and rape and ultimately destroyed itself. The principle of secularism that was added in the Constitution was very carefully worded to make clear that it did not stand for hostility to religion. Its principle was to maintain a separation between the state and religion and to create an environment in which all the religious communities could live in harmony.

④ Socialism: Socialism reflected the commitment to create a just and egalitarian society, a society in which there would be no exploitation and everyone would have equal rights opportunities. The vision of an independent Bangladesh which had inspired the freedom fighters was of a society which would be free from exploitation.
